

Marketing & Promotional Products

This interactive desk piece was sent to the client's channel marketers involved in the launch of a new product line.

The puzzle tray was sent to prospective benefactors, with puzzle pieces sent subsequently with each donation to complete the desktop gift.

Not an award or a gift, but instead a tangible item that accompanies and highlights a specific call to action. An interesting or symbolic promotional item doesn't get discarded, providing marketers of all kinds an unmatched "stickiness" factor.
